MAIDEN MATRON WON AT GOOD OODS

Mrs. Grannan, an Unknown Filly, Landed the First Race at the Fair Grounds.

JOCKEY DALE'S DANDY DRIVES.

Colonel Baker's Tod Sloan Gave Barrica and Adelante Rattling Rides Down the Stretch-Jimp's Good Form.

One of those intuitive winners, horses which have no form, but which you pick to win as a woman does her reasons-because -got away with the first race in good style at the Fair Grounds yesterday. The lady was Mrs. Grannan, a matron by name but a maiden by lack of victory to yesterday.

talk from Jonesey or an injection of hope per and confidence from H. Louis Massie. So Mrs. Grannan went unbacked and won just the same as if a million had been bet on Dominick gave Colonel Gay what Tom McHale would call a 'bastely' ride in the second when the cicky old dingo figured good despite his bad limbs. On away in ront Gay was not allowed to run and Ladas past a tramp, Ladas looked good enough for a bit, but he did not work easy. Coming away from the stable turn J. Woods began cost poor Colonel Cassidy so much scooted a jack rabbit. He raced over Gay, Marie G. Brown and Ladas as if they were tied to telegraph poles. He won in a rap-ping finish handily enough.

Colonei Gay came again when he had no chance and beat Marse G. Brown at the end, for which Dominick got credit that was not his. Gay was the best nag by a good old had been doings with Jimp. Bosh! The mag figured to win all right, all right.

Loving Cup won a $2.0 purse for Philanthropist George W. Miller, beating Doctor Rowell's St. Cuthbert an inch in a fearful finish. Mr. Miller had his mare in for $1,00. Doctor Rowell boosted her $605, the extra "finit" retaining her for the owner. St. Cuthbert was entered to be sold for $100 and he was a better horse than Loving Cup at that. Doctor Rowell's instructions to J. Woods beat the horse. He told Woods to let the horse race in front if he could do it easily, but if the mare got hustling him, to rate him on her heels and chase her to death in the stretch. Any old finish would have yet Doctor Rowell got angry because his good hag, entered at $700, was beaten by a really worse one emered at $1,000. At that Mr. Miller no doubt does not need a curator appointed for his estate.

The start was not excellent, the first two getting off a mile in front and having it all their own way. Beg parains, colonel Hugh R. Baker, popular and most capable trainer, as has so frequently been set forth in the public prints, Date can rise a race now and then, he gave barrica a rattling handride in the second race, a really vigorous, if somewhat inartistic, hustling. But he was alive, he also made Aucante finish strong in her race, though he is an awful hom jock back of a field when he wants to get through. First, he tries to run on the rail like a tight rope-walker at a country fair and, falling in that, he wants to run rings around them on the outside. Then he will buck the center and try the ends again, just like a crazy footbail player in a tight pinen.

He did all that with the sheary adelacts like a crazy football player in a tight phon.

He did all that with the sleepy adelante yesterday, But when they came out in the straight he made his race. He drove her hard. She was dend game. Coming from nowhere, she raced over the top of Merriman and Robert J., ridden by the mighty Crowbust and the sturdy Dominick. Lake Crowbust and the sturdy Dominick. Dale did fine on her. If he will learn to find his way through a field without a chart he may some day verify the good things which Brigadler General Baker has been saying of him.

En passant, while singing Master Daie's praises, it may be remarked that it was not the worst horse he had under him, not by a jugful.

There were more good things in the last event than fleas in a corded poodle at this time of year. That slick Texas contingent had Terry Ennger in and bet as if the race was over, and they were all Colonels John D. Hopkins who can kill a cinch quicker and harder than any man that lives. They backed Terry from 20 to 5 in a minute. Ida Ledford was also backed hard, and many people swore they smelt a rat. Some of the wise ones howled that Miss Ida had no more right to win than Colonel Schulte or John S. Bratton, the fattest gentlemen at the track, and vowed that if she won they would have some one up in the stand. at the track, and vowed that if she won they would have some one up in the stand. Yet her ladyship figured good enough. However, she did not land. The Barrister, a good horse, supposed to have sprung from the chicken loins of that cur, Terra Cotta, went from 3 to 6 in the betting, but won a mile out. He certainly ran a race. Libbie, a weak favorite, was a natural second, the useless Diana Fonso third and ida Ledford where she belonged, according to the

It was a day of fine and appeading sport.

KEENE'S ENTRY WAS ONE, TWO.

Commando Won the Brighton Junior Stakes by a Neck From Olympian. New York, Aug. 7.-The Brighton Junior Stake of $10,900 was the feature of the racing at Brighton Beach to-day. The Keene entry, Commando and Olympian, Keene entry, Commando and Olympian, coupled in the betting at the probability price of 1 to 6, ran one, two, Commando winning by a neck from Olympian, who was under double wraps. All Green, ridden out in a vain effort to catch the first two, was third, a length and a half away. The time, 131-5, was fast. It looked as if Olympian might have beaten his stable companion at the weights. He is eligible for the Futurity, and will get in with all allowances. He is aircady considered by shrewd judges the probable winner. The summaries:

was Mrs. Grannan, a matron by name but a maiden by lack of victory to yesterday. With the able Gilmore up the filly won cleverly from Empyreal. It is said that Gilmore rode a lovely race on her. The only other feature of the event was that the Goose Hill Sloan, the ducky-looking Dominick, threw the dinkey-dink into Hinkey Dink, or words to that effect, when he helped the unworthy Marcia Dent beht Miss Pratt. Marcia had no license to be third, but she was. Hinkey was awful in what the "Jonescy" technically calls the "closing strides."

There was no way to make Mrs. Grannan look a winner on form, but many people felt it in their bones that she was going to do something. Feeling it in your bones is not conducive to putting down your bets, at least it is not as encouraging as a dose of dope from the fountain head or a smoke talk from Jonesey or an injection of hope and confidence from H. Louis Massie. So

St. Louis showed a startling reversal of form yesterday and was pesten by the juvenile Giants in an uninteresting game. Had it been across the street Judge Murphy would have called Manus or Teb au and his band into the stand, and they would have been lucky to escape severe punishment. Umpire Bob Einsile would have been with the bunch as he showed poor form. It was not near his standard. To say that Emslie was decidedly off is letting him down light. His decisions on balls and strikes and on the bases were decidedly off-color, St. Louis nas played very bad baseball this year, away below its form. Critics about the country have written about poor management, individual playing and such things, and one is ferced to think twice before saying that the umpire robbed a team with such a reputation. That Emslie meant to be fair there is no question. However, he was not S veral times during the game he tuve questionable decisions, and at times when St. Louis appeared to have a chanc to score one or more runs. Spectators, many of whom are not enthusiasts since St. Louis has shown such poor form, stood up on their chairs and jeered Emslie, who, until this year, was regarded as the best official on Nick Young's staff.

Heldrick suffered most at Emslie's hands. In the third inning he was called out when it appeared that he was safe by ten feet or more. Emmett was on second, when Donovan hit to Doyle. It was a line drive, Jack handed the sphere to Davis, who tried to cover second. Heldrick best him to the bag by at least two strides, but both men were retired by Emslie's decision. Emslie made his decision on the second-base play from behind the bat, when he should have been right at the bag. However, the san was exceedingly hot, and as the members of Nick's staff are not overpaid, it is no wonder that the umpire did not chase him-
